

INSTITUT
SIMONE DE BEAUVOIR INSTITUTE

and
the Centre d'Études Arabes pour le développement (CEAD)
in collaboration with
The Women's Y (YWCA)
invite you to a public lecture
on

THE HIDDEN FACE OF EVE:

Women in the Arab World

by

Nawal el Saadawi

President of the Arab Women's Solidarity Association (AWSA)

Nawal el Saadawi was born in the village of Kafr Tahla in Egypt. She trained as a doctor of medicine and rose to become Egypt's Director of Public Health, a remarkable achievement for a woman in her country. She began writing thirty years ago, producing novels and short stories, and in 1972 published her first study on Arab women's problems and their struggle for liberation: Women and Sex. She writes in Arabic, but has published in English and French. The Hidden Face of Eve is her most well known book. Nawal el Saadawi currently lives and works in Cairo.

Date: Thursday, October 2, 1986

Time: 19:30 h

Place: Holden Fisher Hall
The Women's Y (YWCA)
1355 Dorchester Blvd. West
(corner of Crescent/metro: Lucien l'Allier)

For information:
Simone de Beauvoir Institute: 848-2370
CEAD: 288-3412
The Women's Y: 866-9941

Lecture will be presented in English.